Literary Double Bill*The Bookshop (PG) | 113mins

Dir: Isabel Coixet | 2017

Florence Green is a free-spirited widow who decides to open a bookshop at the seaside in 1950's England. There she meets Mr Brundish (Bill Nighy) who, sick of the town's stale atmosphere, works with Florence to culturally awaken the town to the cutting-edge literature of the day, causing a mini revolution in the process.

The Guernsey Literary and Potato Peel Pie Society (12A) 124mins

Dir: Mike Newell | 2018

Writer Juliet, played by Lily James, forms an unexpected bond with the eccentric residents of Guernsey. After being introduced to their book club, The Guernsey Literary and Potato Peel Pie Society – whose passion for fiction keeps them going through Nazi occupation – Juliet decides to write about their history.

Chicken (15) 86mins

Dir: Joe Stephenson | 2015

This critically acclaimed debut feature from Joe Stephenson has been described by some as a 21st Century Kes. Richard, a fifteen-year-old boy with learning difficulties lives in a shabby caravan with his older brother. After forming a friendship with rebellious seventeen-year-old Annabel, growing conflict with the new landowners leads to a situation that severely tests Richard's natural optimism.

Forrest Gump (12A) 142mins

Dir: Robert Zemeckis | 1994

Join us to celebrate Tom Hanks birthday. Slow-witted Forrest, with the support of his mother, always looks at the world with optimism. Whether it be as an accidental American Football star or fighting in Vietnam. He becomes admired by all but only ever has eyes for his childhood sweetheart Jenny. Featuring a chance to meet a real life (well cardboard cut-out of Tom) and free Bubba Gump shrimp (sweets) for all!

Time Trial (18) 81mins

Dir: Finlay Pretsell | 2017

In 1997, Scottish-born David Millar was offered his first professional contract leading the biggest French cycling team, Cofidis. He was soon winning stages of the Tour de France, La Vuelta a Espana and World Championships before receiving a suspension for doping in 2004. Since then, Millar has become an authoritative voice on anti-doping and this is his story.
